MED Chair, Miguel R. Olivas-Luján

MED “Virtually” in China

On Saturday, November 18, MED Chair, Miguel Olivas-Luján was a long-distance guest, as part of the MED Ambassador program organized by the key lab “data science and management decision” of Shanghai University of International Business and Economics (SUIBE) who invited executives registered in the DBA (Doctor in Business Administration) program of IPAG Business School (Paris, France) in China. Professor Youngjin Yoo, former OCIS division chair co-conducted the doctoral seminar with MED Ambassador to China, Emmanuel Monod, SUIBE Shanghai and director of the key lab.

Among the students in the seminar were the CEOs of the following companies: SINOTRANS, the largest shipping company in China, ELECTROLUX, US firm with expanding presence in China, STABILUS, a German company dealing with transformation in hyper-competition, SW, a chemical logistics company building an e-commerce platform and 360, an internet commerce company. These CEOs are in varying stages of their DBA program and the conversation focused on specific ways to model a doctoral dissertation, as well as AOM submissions and publication of cases based on their studies.

Since the MED Ambassador program was first conceived, videoconferences with MED leaders were contemplated as a way to bring MED to other countries; this is the first time that one such event takes place. We hope that many more events like this one take place in the near future, including MED members with expertise in different areas.

Miguel R. Olivas-Luján,
MED Chairperson,

Emmanuel Monod
MED Ambassador to China

Responsible Management Learning and Education Interactive Webinar January 11, 2018 (Thursday) – 11-11:30 USA Eastern Standard Time (1700 GMT)

Dear Colleagues,

The Management Education and Development (MED) division of the Academy of Management is delighted to invite you to an interactive video webinar on Responsible Management Learning and Education (RMLE).

Topic: ‘So: what is responsible management learning and education?’ Main themes of research and practice

This live, interactive video webinar will bring together academics and practitioners from around the world to discuss the latest topics in responsible management learning and education. Participants who are new to the field are most welcome and the webinar will help them get engaged and up-to-date.

We are particularly keen to involve doctoral students, junior faculty and international scholars and practitioners who may not have easy access to the Academy annual meeting. The webinar is free, and you can participate using any electronic device (computer, tablet, phone, etc.) where you install Zoom (a free app)

Speaker: Oliver Laasch (Nottingham University Business School China)

Oliver is a long-standing contributor to the United Nations Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) initiative. He edits the responsible management education book collection; has coordinated UN working groups; and founded the Center for Responsible Management Education (CRME). Oliver serves on the editorial board of Academy of Management Learning and Education and has edited related special issues for the Journal of Business Ethics as well as for the Journal of Management Education.

Sponsor: Management Education and Development (MED) division; Miguel Olivas-Luján (Clarion University of Pennsylvania - MED Chair)

Host: Murray Dalziel (Dean, Merrick School of Business, U. of Baltimore)

When: January 11, 2018 (Thursday) – 11-11:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time (5:00 p.m. GMT)
(to accommodate participants in a wide range of time zones)

How to join:

- Registration is free, just click on the hyperlink that will be published soon, to provide your name and email address. If you so wish, the form also provides space for you to indicate areas of interest and advance questions for the presenter.
- One week before the event we will send you full instructions and a dedicated Zoom link, specific to this webinar. Just click that dedicated link to join the event.

If you have any questions, please contact Lisa Stickney, Eusebio Scornavacca or Regina Bento.

We look forward to welcoming you to this vibrant community of scholars and practitioners!

CALL FOR PROPOSALS
Small Group Research
2019 REVIEW ISSUE

Aaron Brower, Co-Editor
Joann Keyton, Co-Editor
Charles Samuelson, Associate Editor
Bertolt Meyer, Associate Editor
Katerina Bezrukova, Associate Editor

The editorial team of Small Group Research invites authors to submit proposals for the 2019 Review Issue. Articles for the Review Issue are high-impact scholarly surveys of important group and team research literatures. They summarize recent research, provide integration across disciplines, and highlight important directions for future inquiries. The Review Issue is open to all areas of group and team research, including research methods and group-based learning activities.

We are interested in interdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary reviews that (a) address critical turning points in the literature in terms of evolving theory, enduring issues where reviews can reveal future areas of attention, levels of analysis issues, or improvements in methodological approaches, and (b) explore the topic, theory, or method across disciplines. Manuscripts by a team of interdisciplinary authors are preferred.

Proposals should be submitted between April 1, 2018 and May 1, 2018 via the Small Group Research online submission portal at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/sgr>. Be sure to select "Proposal" in the Manuscript Type pull down box. Also indicate that your submission is a 2019 Review Issue Proposal in your cover letter, and include the names and email addresses of 3 to 5 potential reviewers. Suggested reviewers should be from different disciplines. Submissions that do not include potential reviewers will not be reviewed.

Please note that we are not accepting manuscripts before April 1, 2018.

Proposals should be double-spaced and include no more than seven pages of text. References, tables, and appendices do not count in this page limit. All proposals will be subject to editorial review. Please do not send complete papers--if you have a draft of your paper, please note that in the proposal.

Submissions will be evaluated with respect to the following criteria (we encourage you to address these in your proposal):

- (a) Relevance. The proposed manuscript should thoroughly review a significant and important research area within the group and team literature.
- (b) Integration across disciplines. The proposed manuscript should aim to integrate theory and research across the different disciplines that study groups. If the proposed review is limited to specific disciplines, identify this and explain why these disciplines are selected. Reviews of literature from only one discipline are not suitable for this call.
- (c) Viability. The proposal should represent an achievable project within the tight time constraints required. More detail on the timeline is provided below.
- (d) Organization and Coherence. The proposal should follow a logical structure, read clearly, and thoroughly represent the available research.
- (e) Insight for Future Work. The proposal should convey important implications for future theoretical or methodological developments, or applications.

Review Issue Timeline:

1. April 1, 2018 through May 1, 2018 Proposals due to the Small Group Research online submission portal at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/sgr>. Be sure to select "Proposal" in the Manuscript Type pull down box. Also indicate that your submission is a 2019 Review Issue Proposal in your cover letter, and include the names and email addresses of 3 to 5 potential reviewers. Suggested reviewers should be from different disciplines.
2. September 15, 2018: Final decision on proposal and initial feedback provided to authors.
3. February 15, 2019: Full draft of paper due to Small Group Research.
4. April 15, 2019: Feedback to authors on full paper.
5. June 15, 2019: Final paper submitted to Small Group Research.
6. December 2019: Publication of 2018 review issue of Small Group Research

The following list represents the topics published (or accepted to be published) in the 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, and 2018 review issues.

- Examination of partner effects in group contexts
- Algorithms for computational faultline/subgroup detection

Sponsors

Without external sponsors MED would not be able to provide our range of socials, research awards and membership activities. Our core budget comes from AOM membership dues (please do encourage others to join), with a very significant proportion of our budget coming from sponsorships. We acknowledge the contribution of each of our sponsors, thank them for their support of the division, and in turn ask that MED members be mindful of their contributions to the division.
